Mrs. Fred Goldeke, aged 48 years, died Sunday, after a long and painful illness at her home, near Carrollton.

The store at Leta was badly damaged by fire Wednesday which originated in the basement while the proprietor was at dinner.

The W. C. T. U. silver medal contest at Bogard resulted in a tie between Misses Ruth Thomas and Verna Easley. Both were awarded a medal.

Several valuable dogs have died from poisoning at Carrollton and the guilty party will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law if he can be apprehended.

The residence of James Evans in Trotter township, together with most of the contents, was destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. It is not known how the fire caught.

Mrs. Wm. Trigg, an aged lady living in Sugartree township was found dead in bed Thursday morning. Paralysis is supposed to be the cause of her death as she had a stroke about 10 years ago.

Wm. Clements of near Waken-dae sustained a heavy loss by fire Saturday night. His barn, with 150 barrels of corn, 2 tons of hay and some farm machinery, was totally destroyed. No one had been near the barn for several days and the origin of the fire is a mystery.

Judge Butler had to decide at Carrollton Tuesday what to do with a 15-year-old boy who had stolen $10. He sentenced him to jail for six months and then paroled him during good behavior. He also gave him a good lecture on how to live and what might come to him by honest living.

Frank, the 10-year-old son of Judge and Mrs. F. E. Minnis of Trotter township, died Friday night from injuries received at the Trotter schoolhouse Tuesday morning from a horse kicking him. At recess Frank ran into a shed in which a horse was kept by one of the pupils. As he ran into the shed the horse kicked him three times—once in the stomach and once on each side of the breast. The little fellow was taken to his home and physicians were summoned, but so severe were his injuries that they could not even relieve the pain. After four days' of intense suffering he died Friday night shortly after the clock struck 15.

MARRIAGES.

A. L. Lewis of South Ottumwa, Iowa, and Miss Dora Milhauser of Bogard.

Arthur Meier and Miss Grace Wagaman, both of Carrollton.

MACON.

Mrs. Frances Leslie, who died at her home in Centerville, Iowa, Friday was buried at LaPlata Sunday.

Frank Phillips of Macon is suing the Bles Carriage Co. for $5,000 damages for the loss of a thumb and three fingers on a wood-working machine. The negligence alleged is a dull kniver on the machine and failure to provide it with a safety guard, also that it was out of line.

Tillman Merrill of Woodville went to work Wednesday morning seemingly as well as usual. About noon he became seriously ill and had to be taken home in a wagon. Medical aid was summoned, but relief seemed impossible. As a last resort a surgical operation was performed, but to no advantage and he died Friday afternoon.

The mayor of Macon ordered the police and marshal to see that there was no violation of the Sunday law in regard to opening of business houses. Several of the saloon-keepers called on the mayor and thanked him for his action. They said they liked to have a day of rest so they could attend church and go driving with their families, and that it would please them well to know that those who might be inclined to sell liquor on that day would be looked after.

A case of more than usual interest will be tried soon at Elmer. The defendants are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Isley, both prominent and well-known people. Minnie Freed, wife of the hardware merchant, is the prosecuting witness. It is said that two school boys of the respective families had a fight and that their mothers took it up and had a little encounter themselves on the street. Some effort was made towards effecting a compromise, but as unconditional surrender is the terms of both parties, little progress has been made towards a peaceful settlement.

Garland Bates, an aged negro of Macon, is in the federal prison at Hannibal for violating the U. S. liquor laws. A few weeks ago a white man gave the negro a half dollar to purchase for him a half pint of whiskey. The whiskey was delivered and 10 cents of the change retained by Bates for his trouble. The police reported the affair to the United States officers, and upon investigation they decided that Garland's crime came under the head of retailing liquor without license. His bond was fixed at $250 which he was unable to give, so he had to go to prison.

MARRIAGES.

Edward F. Maflry and Miss Maud Burns, both of Macon.

RANDOLPH.

John G. Sakman, aged 78 years, died of Bright's disease, at his home in Moberly Tuesday.

John W. Faessler, manager of the Faessler machine shops at Moberly, has invented a wood-splitting machine. The machine is run by a small gasoline engine and by a practical test has proven its usefulness as a time and labor-saving device.

Two negroes who were unable to give a satisfactory account of themselves were placed in custody by Moberly officers. One of them perfectly answers the description of a negro wanted in Alabama on the charge of murder. Both negroes will be held until some word is received from Alabama.

Vesper Halliburton, a rural mail-carrier out of Cairo, was riding a balky horse on his rounds Tuesday, and when the horse balked he got off and was administering a good flogging to the animal when it reared up and fell over on its back, breaking its neck.

Mrs. John H. Cavender of Moberly filed complaint against her husband in the police court stating that he had deserted her and three children. She also stated that if he would send her some money every month to help support the children he might go and stay. The last heard of him was from Salt Lake City.

About two weeks ago a small boy named Thurman Wakefield, aged 10 years, ran away from his home in Kirksville, and walked across the country till he reached Huntsville. From there he started toward Moberly, and was found Monday at a country residence, near Moberly. The boy was at once sent back to Kirksville where he has a good home and respected parents.
